[Introduction] Introduction to Enso Group HR Policy Manual

Introduction

Enso Group HR Policy Manual

This Human Resources Policy Manual is provided as a central reference for all manager s, supervisors and employees and applies to staff across all locations where the Comp any carries out its work.

The specific policies that follow promote the philosophy of Enso Group with regard to standards of excellence; terms of employment; employee development; and employee ser vices.

It may be necessary to change these policies from time to time to reflect changes in the workforce, employment trends, economic conditions and Global legislation. However , any changes in policy will be consistent with the Company's approach to:

- Employing talented individuals whose creativity and imagination will support and co ntribute to achieving Company's business objectives;
- Communicating Company standards and expectations in all aspects of employment inclu ding performance;
- Valuing diversity, and assure equal employment opportunity and a workplace where re lationships are based on mutual respect;
- Treating all staff, workers, contractors and customers in a professional, non-discr iminatory manner;
- Providing safe, effective working conditions, and;
- Providing competitive terms and conditions in our workplace market.

Any Policy changes will be fully consulted on and communicated to all staff through n ormal communication channels. This Policy Manual will also be updated as necessary. T his Manual applies to all Jurisdictions Globally.

[Section 1.1 & 1.2] Recruitment & Induction Policy

Recruitment - Introduction

Effective recruitment and selection is central and crucial to the successful function ing of Enso Group. It depends on finding people with the necessary skills, expertise and qualifications to deliver the Company's strategic objectives and the ability to m ake a positive contribution to the values and aims of the organisation.

Advertisement:

- Vacancies will generally be advertised in an appropriate newspaper or journal, and will not be confined to those media which provide only or mainly applicants of a part icular group.
- Advertisements will also be notified to the local job centre.
- Enso Group may, on occasions, decide to restrict advertisement to internal candidat es only.
- In applying for posts, all candidates will be provided with a job description, deta ils of the appropriate conditions of service and details about the Company.
- The Company will ensure that no job Candidate receives less favourable treatment th an another on the grounds of disability, gender, race, religion or belief, age, sexua l orientation, marital status, parental status, caring responsibilities or hours of w ork.
- Candidates will be asked to specify whether they have any disabilities, and whether there are any reasonable adjustments needed.
- All candidates will be asked to declare whether they have ever been convicted of an y criminal offence which cannot be regarded as 'spent'.
- Applicants will also be required to declare if they are related to any member of st aff within the Company. Canvassing of members of the Company is not permitted.
- A short-list of candidates will be drawn up for interview, based entirely on merit and suitability for the post.

Induction Policy - General Policy Statement

Enso Group believes that all new employees MUST be given timely induction training. T his training is regarded as a vital part of staff recruitment and integration into th e working environment. This policy defines the Company's commitment to ensure that al l staff is supported during the period of induction.
